DISCUSSION:

Whole Air Monitoring BioWatch Program Grant funding for field operations and sample collection activities from the United States Department of Homeland Security (DHS) provides funds for supporting whole air monitoring field operations for early detection of bioterrorism attacks within the City of Fort Worth and Tarrant County. If awarded, funds provided through this program would be used for the operation of local air pollution monitors to include retrieving sampling filters and data, delivering filters and data for analysis, and performing regular audit and maintenance activities on the equipment and sites under the terms of the grant.

The Department of Homeland Security provides all air monitoring equipment, parts, and supplies for the proper operation of the air monitoring samplers. The contract period will start February 1, 2026, through July 31, 2026, with a maximum amount up to $253,000.00 for reimbursement of expenses to the City.

The City has previously received DHS funds for its Whole Air Monitoring BioWatch Program through the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) as pass-through funding. Most recently, City Council approved Mayor and Council Communications (M&C 25-0656) on June 24, 2025 for FY26 Amendment #4. Effective January 2026, the City of Fort Worth directly applies for funding with DHS; TCEQ no longer administers this pass-through grant funding at the state level.
